

BOOK LOANS TO JUVENILES SET LIBRARY RECORD

That books are more than holding their ground against television and other forms of entertainment among the young people of Adams County was indicated in the monthly circulation report of the Adams County Free Library given the library board or directors Friday evening by Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the librarian.

The board learned that in February book loans set a new high record for any month since the library opened more than seven years ago and most of the increase has come among juvenile readers. "This report shows," one member of the board declared, "that young people will read good, attractive books if they're available." Mrs. Wilson and members of the board agreed that the increase of about 5,000 book loans last month over the figure for February of last year was due to the presence of many attractive new books for young readers—both fiction and non-fiction.

Over 700 Loans A Day
Most of the new books acquired in the last year came through gift to the library from the Musselman Foundation.
Book loans last month totaled 17,017, as against 11,856 in February, 1952, and 16,492 in January of this year. February's total in- (Please Turn to Page 4)

5,000 EASTER SEAL LETTERS SOLICIT FUNDS TO AID KIDDIES

Nearly 5,000 letters carrying the annual appeal for funds from the Adams County Society of Crippled Children and Adults went into the mails today as the 20th annual Easter Seal sale opened.

The seal sale campaign is being headed this year by Russel S. Hackman, Biglerville, president of the Upper Adams Lions Club and a member of the board of directors of the crippled children's society. The sale is conducted each year during the month immediately preceding Easter.

A half million of the Easter seals accompanied the letters which went out over the signature of Dr. Clarence Bartholomew, president of the crippled children's society. Checks should be made payable to the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults and sent to Miss Elizabeth Evans, treasurer of the society.

Larry And Scores of Others
The letter follows in part: "Everybody knows about Larry Kepner and his new legs the Adams County Crippled Children's Society helped him get. Easter Seal money from last year helped pay for those legs and for the expense of the training period Larry had to go through at Kessler Institute this winter when he gave up his 'stubbies' for full-length lower limbs.

"There will be regular adjustments for Larry and they'll cost money again this year. Easter Seal sale receipts will make sure that the best attention (Continued on Page 7)

BRUCELLOSIS COMMITTEE TO MEET ON FRIDAY

The Adams County Brucellosis Committee will meet next Friday night to map plans for an increased effort to get farmers in the county signed for testing for the disease, George L. Haenn, of the county committee, said today.

Haenn made the report upon returning Friday from Harrisburg where he attended the annual meeting of the State Brucellosis Committee. At that session January 1, 1953, was set as the date by which owners of all herds in the state are to be signed on a state-approved Brucellosis testing program.

He added that increased concern is being shown over the prevalence of the disease in the state. Markets allowing milk to be shipped to them from non-tested herds are becoming fewer and fewer, he said. Milk from non-tested herds soon will not be accepted on any of the major markets, he said.

Success of the "ring test" in determining the existence of the disease in herds has made it possible for the testing work to be carried out with much greater speed than formerly, according to reports at the meeting in Harrisburg.

Seek $500,000 Appropriation
The committee urged the legislature to provide approximately $500,000 for research and other work in the disease during the coming biennium.

The committee also recommended that a township or county should be approved for area testing to reveal diseased animals when 75 per cent of the herd owners, representing 90 per cent of the cattle, sign for Brucellosis testing. The present regulation calls for 90 per cent of all herd owners before area testing starts.

Dr. H. A. Milo, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry for the state, and State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst told of the work of the three traveling laboratories carrying out the testing program.

J. Lewis Williams, Uniontown, was reelected president of the State Brucellosis Committee for the third year; Albion Bindley, Mercer, was moved up from secretary to vice (Continued on Page 3)

Succeeds Stalin

Georgi M. Malenkov, chief Soviet exponent of international communism, was announced March 6 by the Moscow radio as successor to the top Russian post held by the late Joseph Stalin. The announcement said that Malenkov has been appointed Chairman (Prime Minister) of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union, the post that Stalin held at the time of his death.

Malenkov, Model Communist, Steps Into Stalin's Shoes At 51 As New Russ Premier

By The Associated Press
Soviet Russia's new boss — Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov — is a man of action. He showed that in the speed with which he moved into Joseph Stalin's shoes.

For years the chubby, beetle-browed man whom Stalin molded into a model Communist plotted to succeed his boss.

There is little doubt that Malenkov figured some time ago that Stalin's final days were nearing and schemed accordingly.

Holds Key Position

When the end came he apparently acted swiftly.

His appointment as chairman of the Council of Ministers, the key government job held by Stalin, means that he has firmly grasped one of the real controls of power in the Kremlin and probably has his hands firmly upon others as well.

Malenkov is a product of the Soviet dictatorship Stalin shaped.

Ike Supports Red Cross Drive

"The American Red Cross is symbolic of the deep concern of our Nation for human welfare—the fact that the American way of life places human values above materialism. Because I subscribe so thoroughly to these principles, it is most appropriate that one of my first acts in assuming the great responsibilities of this office is to set in motion machinery for the 1953 Red Cross Fund campaign.

"The work of the Red Cross is well known to all of you. But perhaps you are not aware how the Red Cross continues its vital services to the Armed Forces, veterans and their families through a worldwide network of communication and help, at military installations, with field units, at home through the local chapters and in service and veterans' hospitals. The Red Cross collects blood to meet the urgent needs of the wounded and the many military emergencies in all combat and hospital areas.

"In addition, the Red Cross has been asked to enlarge its activities in the coming year in two important areas: First, to provide additional recreation facilities for our troops overseas, and, second, to expand greatly the National Blood Program to obtain plasma for making a serum to protect children against the paralyzing effects of polio. The result is an evitable enlargement of the Red Cross budget, and higher quotas for its 1953 Fund Campaign."

FATHER OF 3 IS MURDERED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 34 year old father of three children was tabbed to death last night only minutes after he had become reconciled with his estranged wife. Police said Joseph Mullen was fatally stabbed by his father-in-law, Albert MacKintie, 56, who was arrested and charged with homicide.

Authorities gave this account: Mullen visited his father-in-law's home to see his wife, Phoebe, from whom he had been separated about two months.

Mullen asked his wife to come back to him now that he had a job. Police said the couple separated because Mullen was unemployed.

Dared Father-In-Law

Mrs. Mullen agreed and told her father she was leaving. MacKintie from an upstairs room, shouted: "You aren't going anywhere." He then ordered his son-in-law out of the house and threatened to kill him if he didn't go.

Mullen dared him to "come down and do it." MacKintie, clad in his underwear, rushed downstairs, and stabbed Mullen in the neck with a homemade knife. The wife called police.

out, present striking evidence of the changes which have occurred during the past five generations.

It was estimated in 1832 by Thomas G. Gordon, the author of the Gazetteer, that the northern anthracite field contained 1,396,000,000 tons of coal which could not be exhausted in ten thousand years. Actually, during the ensuing 120 years, more than four times that estimated tonnage has been extracted from the northern field and 1,600,000,000 tons of coal are still recoverable, but the ten thousand years of production allotted to that field have been reduced to an estimated life, as of today, of approximately 50 years.

In 1831, Pennsylvania was reported as producing 32,156 tons of pig iron and 5,506 tons of castings, which looks rather small compared to the State's last year's iron output of 22,000,000 tons.

Salt was one of the most precious resources of the Commonwealth 120 years ago. But the economic importance of that mineral for Pennsylvania has in recent years depended on the fact that it was in the salt wells of our northwestern counties that sweepings of oil first revealed the presence of petroleum in the great Bradford field. Pennsylvania's treasures of salt still remain largely untapped deep below the soil of the State's western counties, although salt from shallower deposits in the same geologic horizon provides raw material for an important industry in western New York.

In regard to one of Pennsylvania's great natural resources, soil, this early writer presents us with a report which explains rather well why Pennsylvania with its limited area is still one of the great agricultural states of our nation after 120 more years of cultivation. "The State of Pennsylvania," Gordon writes, "is perhaps the best cultivated of all the states in the Union; that is, more of the farmers have dropped the ancient practice of wearing out the field and going on to clear away the trees of another without adopting any system of fertilizing by plaster or rotation of crops, so as to keep the lands once cleared continually in heart. Most of the Pennsylvania farmers, like the farmers in Europe, make their fields better and richer in proportion to the time they have been in culture. It is therefore, partly to art and industry and partly to nature that we are indebted for the prosperous state of agriculture in the Commonwealth." This statement remains quite true today.

Big Shakeup Accompanies Malenkov's Choice As Chief

MOSCOW (AP)—Georgi M. Malenkov today led the Soviet Union and its wide dominions—officially—as successor to Joseph V. Stalin. His elevation was accompanied by a wholesale shakeup of top government personnel.

Selection of Stalin's 51-year-old protégé to be the new Russian prime minister was announced by the Kremlin last night. Long a close associate of the dead Communist chief, Malenkov had been considered his likeliest successor.

A government communique said the host of other changes—apparently aimed at streamlining the Soviet administration—were necessary to assure "uninterrupted and correct" leadership of the country and to prevent "any kind of disarray and panic" following Stalin's death.

Supreme Soviet To Meet
The communique also announced that the Supreme Soviet—the Soviet Union's Parliament—would meet in Moscow March 14 to consider the changes.

Among the most important switches were:

1. L. P. Beria, boss of the Soviet secret police and Russia's atomic energy program, named head of the newly combined Interior and State Security Ministries. (He presumably also will retain his police and atomic duties.)

2. Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov returned to the post of foreign minister held from 1939 to 1949. He replaced Andrei Vishinsky, who was appointed permanent Soviet representative to the United Nations in New York. Vishinsky had taken over the Foreign Ministry job from Molotov.

3. Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, a member of Stalin's five-man inner war council during World War II, was named minister of the armed forces in place of Marshal A. M. Vasilievsky. The latter became a deputy minister.

4. Three deputy foreign ministers also were named—Vishinsky, Jacob Malik, who held the same position under Vishinsky and formerly was Russia's U. N. delegate, and Vassily Kuznetsov, formerly head of the Soviet trade union movement.

Four Deputies
Beria, Molotov, Bulganin and Lazarus Kaganovich were all named deputy prime ministers. Since Beria's name was mentioned first, he will be the top deputy. With Malenkov, these four form a new Presidium of the Council of Ministers that apparently will be a highly important government organ.

Marshal Klementy Voroshilov, formerly a vice premier, was chosen chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, replacing Nikolai Shvernik. This post (largely an honorary one) is equivalent to the presidency of the Soviet Union.

Shvernik was made chairman of the All-Union Council of Trade Unions, in place of Vassily Kuznetsov.

The changes were announced by the Central Committee of the Communist party, the Council of Ministers and the Presidium.

CHINESE REDS STAGE ATTACKS; KILL 106 ALLIES

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists hurled two company-sized assaults at Allied outposts on the Korean Western Front today and then withdrew, leaving an estimated 106 dead on the muddy battlefield.

The Reds hit southwest of Kelly Hill with two separate raids—each with about 175 men.

Chilling rain reduced most other ground activity.

Chinese artillery pounded "Old Baldy" with the heaviest concentration of fire there in a month.

An Allied division officer said the barrage lasted about six hours. He estimated the Reds fired 1,800 rounds in the first two hours.

Low-hanging clouds and mist grounded U. N. warplanes during the day.

The Air Force said three Allied planes went down behind Red lines in the week ending Friday, but none were lost in air battles. An F84 Thunderjet and a propeller-driven Mustang were downed by ground fire. Another Mustang was lost to unknown causes, presumably mechanical trouble.

LIFT RENT CONTROLS

Joyce Elizabeth, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Krotz, has been improving at her home after the illness which struck her suddenly at her parents' home Sunday morning.

It has been announced that, because diocesan regulations relax the Lenten rule of fasting and abstinence on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, men of Paradise Catholic parish will conduct a public card party and food sale in the evening at the church social rooms for the benefit of the church. All church people are asked to contribute an article as a prize or food to be used at the food sale, preferably homebaked goods.

Richard D. Sell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Sell, Jr., who entered the army in February and has been at Ft. Knox, Ky., spent the weekend at his home.

Kandy Lou, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Sell, who had recovered from a long period of illness and returned to the local school is again confined to her home, this time with influenza.

At present she cannot walk without assistance, although she is up each day in a chair at the home of Mrs. Miller, who is a registered nurse. She is now in generally good health and receives many visits from neighbors and friends who are presenting her with a shower of greetings, etc., this week to mark her birthday.

Motorist Killed In Headon Crash

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A headon collision on Route 22, about three miles east of here yesterday, killed one man and injured two others.

The victim was identified by police as Ralph H. Maul, 43, of Easton, driver of one of the cars.

Authorities said the driver of the second car was James E. Rieff, 19, of West New York, N. J. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital with face and leg cuts and a possible fracture of the skull.

Frank Gravowski, 25, of Union City, N. J., a passenger in one of the cars, was taken to Easton Hospital for treatment of shock and head lacerations.

YANKS-BRITISH TALK POLICY ON WORLD ISSUES

WASHINGTON (AP)—British and American talks covering the full range of political and economic relations—given impetus by Stalin's death and succession in Russia—may end with a final joint meeting today.

Formal completion of the conferences at the State Department, however, may be only the beginning of a general free world review of diplomatic and economic policies.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler were expected to remain here over the weekend, possibly until Tuesday.

Today's joint foreign affairs and economic conference followed yesterday's heavy round of talks which linked the White House, the State Department and the Treasury. There also were an evening reception at the British Embassy for congressional leaders and dinners at which Secretary of State Dulles entertained Eden and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey entertained Butler.

Both the British visitors and their American hosts were silent about details of their conversations and any progress toward new alignments, especially in the direction of a cure for Britain's chronic economic ills.

2 WOMEN ARE FOUND DEAD IN CHURCH MISSION

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Two American women—the wife of a missionary and a school teacher—were found slain in their beds this morning in the American Presbyterian Mission at Dehradun, a U. S. Embassy spokesman said.

On the basis of reports telephoned here, Embassy officials speculated that robbers were responsible for the crime. There have been no political disturbances in Dehradun, a town 100 miles north of India's capital.

The Embassy said the murdered women were identified as Mrs. Herbert Strickler, wife of the executive secretary of all Presbyterian missions in India, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett of Camden, N. J.

Mrs. Strickler, whose husband was reported away from home on a tour, had been in India since 1919. Mrs. Bennett, formerly a Camden High School teacher, arrived in India only a week ago to teach French in the Woodstock School, a Presbyterian institution near the mission attended mostly by children of diplomats and other foreigners.

Police said a servant at the mission was detained for questioning.

FIRE IN PHILLY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fire flashed through a mid-city women's wear shop last night snarling traffic for an hour.

Firemen said the blaze started on the fourth floor of the seven-story building occupied by the apparel company.

Firemen were hampered by thick clouds of acrid smoke as they battled the fire from three sides.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon present, Mrs. Fager was delegate to the Thursday meeting from the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, Legion Auxiliary.

LITTLESTOWN — The Flying Eagle Patrol will be in charge of the program at the meeting of Boy Scout Troop No. 84 on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the Littlestown State Bank Building. The study of the signalling code will be continued and tests will be held in the near future. Prior to the Wednesday meeting, pictures of scouting activities will be shown beginning at 7 o'clock. It has been announced that the first camp of the year will be held at Camp Conewago on Saturday and Sunday, March 21 and 22. The applications for registration will be closed within a few days and dues must be paid to Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe before this time.

Extra activities scheduled for the coming week at the Littlestown Junior Senior High School include: Thursday morning, 8:45 a.m., special assembly program featuring the Rotifers; Friday afternoon, 1 o'clock, annual Adams County Career conference at Gettysburg College; Friday afternoon, 3:45 o'clock, food sale sponsored by the ninth grade students, to be held in the Swope building, 13 E. King St.

Edgar A. Wolfe and Richard Wolfe comprise the program committee for the March meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran Church on Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the church.

"Birds" is the March subject for study by the Littlestown Cub Scouts, Robert B. Wareheim, assistant cubmaster, spoke about birds in this vicinity at the meeting of the Cubs on Thursday evening in the scouting headquarters. Mr. Wareheim also showed diagrams for building bird houses and boys will make bird houses as a special project this month. Three boys received their bobcat cards, Jerry Hall, Merle Little and Billy Hahn. It was announced that there will be no regular meeting this week. Instead the Cubs will enjoy their first spring hike on Saturday, March 14, leaving from the rear of the grade school building at 1 o'clock. They are asked to provide their own lunch and if the boys wish to take wieners, a fire will be built for roasting them. Several adults will accompany the group on the hike.

Retests Urged

In another regulation the committee recommended that the state program permit a retest of positive vaccinated animals over 30 months of age, such retest to be made between 30 to 60 days of the herd test as a final check on the animal. This retesting is to be at the herd owner's expense following a petition by the owner with the approval of his veterinarian. The committee also requested speeding up of calf vaccinations and called for a survey on availability of additional visual and other educational aids for promotion of Brucellosis eradication. They also requested having tuberculosis testing every three years.

Brucellosis causes contagious abortion in cattle and may cause undulant fever in humans through use of unpasteurized milk from diseased cows. Under most circumstances, cows known to have the disease are disposed of.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Aud. Gen. Weldon B. Heyburn Thursday confirmed that there was a $9,816 shortage in funds of the Wernersville State Hospital in 1951.

A charge was made Wednesday by Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) that the shortage was due to "loose administration." Yosko said the shortage represented 10,739 items such as sheets, blankets, pillow cases, bed spreads and towels.

GROUP PROBES SAFETY PLANS FOR TURNPIKE

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A legislative committee probing Pennsylvania Turnpike safety today mulled over more than a half dozen ideas for reducing the super-highway's death toll.

The suggestions came from 20 witnesses who testified yesterday at a second public hearing conducted by the committee. It's trying to find out what causes turnpike accidents and how they can be curbed. Remedial legislation may be recommended.

A third and final hearing will be held in Harrisburg next Wednesday. The first session was at Lancaster Wednesday. Many of 17 witnesses there cited driver fatigue and high speed as the chief turnpike killers.

Headed by Sen. Fred P. Hare (R-Somerset), the 10-man group heard four Western Pennsylvania district attorneys testify here that strict enforcement of existing laws will cut down crashes. They are Frank A. Orban, Somerset County; Charles M. Koonz, Bedford County; Clark H. Painter, Butler County; and L. Alexander Sculco of Westmoreland County.

Speed Is Factor

Nearly all the witnesses agreed speed is a prime factor in the number of traffic deaths on the turnpike—83 in 1952 and 17 so far this year—and urged reduction of the present general 70-mile-an-hour limit. Other safety proposals advanced were:

1. Increase the turnpike police detail.
2. Erect a physical barrier on the dividing strip.
3. Install radar equipment to catch speeders.
4. Paint tunnels and bridges in bright colors to break the monotony for the driver.
5. Establish a series of rest stops along the highway where the motorist can pull off when he becomes fatigued.
6. Inspect autos and other vehicles to make sure they are in tip-top mechanical condition.

Maroon Cagers Win Loop Title
Third Time in a Row: Gettysburg High School rules the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Basketball league for the third successive year.

The Maroons captured their third straight title Friday night by decisively trouncing Mechanicsburg High, Northern Division titlists, 26-18 on the Shippensburg State Teachers' College court before an overflow crowd of approximately 1,000 fans.

As a result the Forney-men are now scheduled to meet William Penn High of Harrisburg for the District 3 title next Friday evening.

It was Gettysburg all the way Friday night. Bud Boehner's play at center was especially outstanding.

Captain Ross Sachs was a stellar performer. . . . George Fair played a whale of a game on retrieving the ball off the backboards. . . . Don Wickerham was a brilliant performer. The steady performance of George March upon the Wildcats.

Billy Oeden and Jimmy Spahr in relief roles were all that could be asked.

Beard-Wolfe Nuptials: Miss Naomi Elizabeth Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Wolfe, New Oxford R. 1, and Lt. Edward C. Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Foster Beard, were united in marriage Tuesday morning in St. James Lutheran Church at 10:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh in the presence of the immediate family and friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Private Bollinger has returned to a Wisconsin Army camp.

Bombers Sink Axis Ships: (By the Associated Press) Charred floating wreckage over a large area of the desolate shark-infested Bismark sea was the only visible remnant today of a powerful armada of 22 Japanese warships and transports that set out from Rabaul, New Britain, for the New Guinea front at Lae.

All had been destroyed by the flying buzzsaw of Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney - the American, British, Australian and Dutch fliers of his southwestern Pacific command who in continuous waves had sent the ships to the bottom by ones, twos and threes.

The finishing touches were added yesterday, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today, when two damaged destroyers which had remained afloat through the night were put to their death.

The Japanese were silent as a tomb. . . . Pressing their advantage, Kenney's aircraft swarmed upon Lae yesterday and poured 30,000 rounds of cannon and machinegun bullets into an air field destroying at least six Japanese planes, along with their fuel trucks and shooting down at least eight of 17 Japanese fighters which tried to beat off the raiders.

REAL GLORY

You can do a lot of clever things and not be truly great.
You can paint a perfect picture and still stain your soul with hate.
You can hoard up gold and silver till your time of life shall end
And still remain unhonored here and never have a friend.

You may live your generation through and not become a man;
You may build a great cathedral and still fail the Master's plan;
You may be a skillful workman and the topmost heights may gain.

But still if that is all you do your life is spent in vain.

For the things which make for greatness are not born of power and skill;
The tyrant with his conquering troops remains a tyrant still,
And the sculptor with his chisel and the poet with his pen,
Must find their glory, not in works, but how they lived as men.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

DIVINITY IN NATURE

It is impossible to look upon any phase of nature without amazement. There is a story in every snowflake, in every grain of sand, in every formation of rock or ground. Dig into the earth at any point and you open up silent history.

To give further evidence of the divine right of kings, perhaps, is why so many precious stones were put into the ancient crowns. But evidence of the divine right of the humblest human being has always been within the soil under his very feet! The undiscovered is always something for which you have to dig. But with each new effort knowledge is revealed.

The simplest stone by the wayside has a story. So does every stream, every lake, every mountain and every flower. Men have written the story of millions of years past simply by reading the signs and the silent language of ancient effort preserved deep in the earth.

With the coming of every springtime nature spreads itself. Its glory and divinity are evident from whatever direction the eyes glance. Even the harmony of color has a certain divinity about it, and unconsciously affects our thoughts and actions. Who is not inspired to better work and a happier state of mind when the sun shines and all is green and fragrant in nature?

We take too much of the wonder and beauty in nature for granted, as almost everything in nature is. Even the most inexpensive microscope is able to open up a world never before entertained—even in dreams!

While there are forces ever seeking to destroy, there are other forces just as busy, seeking to protect, to build and to reconstruct. From nature we really borrow most of our ideas, for was not nature first created as a place for man? I like that designation, "And to Earth, my Mother, whom I love," as embodied in the dedication of "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless.

U. N. DELEGATES

NOT SURE ABOUT MEANING OF NEW VISHINSKY JOB

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. delegates differed today whether the shift of Andrei Y. Vishinsky from Soviet foreign minister to chief Russian U. N. delegate was a demotion or presaged a new and tougher Soviet line in the world organization.

The change was announced by the Kremlin yesterday as Vishinsky sailed for home. Associates said the tough-talking Moscow lawyer received no advance word of the shift that put Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov in the top Foreign Ministry spot. Vishinsky also was named a deputy foreign minister, a job he had held before.

Vishinsky declined comment on the Russian government changes—including the selection of Georgi M. Malenkov to succeed Premier Stalin—when reporters reached him aboard the French liner Liberte, a few minutes before the ship left her New York pier.

Revenge For Molotov
Some European delegates familiar with the Russians said Molotov finally has his revenge on the old-time prosecutor. They said Vishinsky was being stationed here to remove him from the Moscow scene.

Molotov—once tagged by Lenin as a top-rate filing clerk—customarily spoke disparagingly of Vishinsky as "just a lawyer." These delegates said Vishinsky, known as a protege of L. P. Beria, head of the Soviet political police, helped engineer the ousting of Molotov as foreign minister on March 5, 1949, and that Molotov never forgot or forgave Vishinsky.

The turn of events completely surprised delegates. Another surprising turn was the sudden departure of Andrei Gromyko, Soviet ambassador to London, from Britain for the United States to take over the delegation until Vishinsky can return from Moscow.

Can Be Ruthless
It was reported here that Gromyko had had a visa to come to the United States for about two weeks. This raised conjecture in some minds that the Russians had planned to send Gromyko earlier or had planned to keep him in reserve for such a shakeup as took place today.

Delegates inclined to believe the Russians would take a tougher position in the U. N. pointed out Vishinsky knew how to carry out orders to the fullest and how to be ruthless.

Some European delegates also conjectured that the appointments announced in Moscow showed there is a struggle for power involving Malenkov, Molotov and Beria.

Can't Make Mistakes
They said Malenkov, while apparently holding the inside spot, would have to work cautiously and could not afford to make one mistake or he would risk elimination by a combination of the forces of the other two.

They pointed out also that the appearance of Marshal Georgi Zhukov—first Soviet commander in occupied Germany and a hero of World War II—back in high place as deputy war minister indicated the three aspirants for power were wooing the Army. Zhukov was put to one side by Stalin after the war.

Vishinsky was grim and sorrowful as he boarded the Liberte. Top-ranking Soviet delegates said they were completely taken by surprise and so was Vishinsky himself.

Among patents granted last year were one for a pocket-size typewriter and one for a special spaghetti fork with rotating prongs.

son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. O'Toole, Waynesboro, were united in marriage Saturday morning at 8:15 o'clock at a nuptial mass in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Littlestown, by the Rev. John H. Weber.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Marie O'Toole.

Corporal J. Harold Redding was best man. The ushers were Thomas and Patrick Redding. The altar boys were Donald and Patrick Redding.

wears the party tunic, buttoned up to the neck, with his trousers tucked in his boots.

No Surprise To Many

His elevation to the prime ministry over the heads of older Bolsheviks did not surprise many observers. His designation last fall as keynote speaker at the 19th party Congress demonstrated clearly that he was recognized as the outstanding figure under Stalin in both party and government affairs.

His speech lambasting the party for "mistakes and shortcomings" showed the elements of a successful bidder for his leader's mantle. The tumultuous reception he received from Congress members—shown only to that accorded Stalin—showed the position of power he had attained.

Malenkov was born at Orenburg in the Urals in 1902. He was too young to take part when the Russian Revolution broke out, but at 17 he enlisted in the Red Army, and a year later joined the Communist party.

Was Stalin's Secretary

When only 20, he was assigned the job of political commissar—party tutor and spy—in the Army. In 1925 Stalin got him a job with the Central Committee. He soon became Stalin's personal secretary. In 1937 he was rewarded with a seat on the Central Committee.

Malenkov emerged in a leading position in party councils just before World War II when he became one of the secretaries of the Central Committee.

While Stalin ran the war, Malenkov was in virtual charge of party administration and carried on vital war tasks as well.

Fuss At 50

He directed aircraft production and by 1943 had boosted it to 40,000 planes a year. For this he received the Soviet Union's highest civilian award, Hero of Socialist Labor. In 1946, he became a full member of the Politburo.

When Malenkov reached his 50th birthday in January, 1952, the Soviet press pulled out all the stops, crying his praises in a manner reminiscent of the fuss made on Stalin's own decade birthdays.

The celebration startled the Western world and probably a good portion of the Communist world as well. To the West it could mean but one thing—the bright boy who grew up politically under Stalin's wing was being prepared for succession to the crown.

Mrs. Wilson pointed out that there has been an increase also in adult reading, both through the main library and from the bookmobile, and said there has been an increasing number of reference questions from children and teachers served by the bookmobile. County Help Received

The report of Treasurer L. S. Long showed the $4,300 annual appropriation from the county was received in February leaving a bank balance of $5,405 at the end of the month. Bills totaling $947.14, including some new books, were ordered paid Friday evening.

Balances in the special library funds were reported by Mr. Long as follows: Building, $106; Charles Morris Young Trust Fund, $3,000; Bookmobile Replacement Fund, $2,796.38, and Book Fund, $651.

Reporting for the Property Committee, Mr. Long said plans have been made to paint the exterior of the library building this year and that if and when funds become available a new sidewalk and curb will be placed across the front of the property with provision for one or two driveway entrances to a parking area the library hopes to be able to develop at the rear of the building to relieve parking congestion in that area on Sundays and at other times. Mr. Long said he believes 60 to 75 cars could be parked there.

He reported also on preliminary plans for construction of a new garage and work room at the rear

The board announced a gift of $10 from Miss Barbara Henderson, formerly of Fairfield, to be used to place a book or books in the county library as a memorial to Miss Ruth Spangler, former member of the Gettysburg High School faculty.

Meet Next April 10

Director Dean Asquith told the board of the status of plans for a community building in Biglerville and said a branch of the county library has been suggested as one service to be included in any such structure.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Smoke, a member of the library board, reported briefly on the Library Service bill that is again before Congress, providing federal funds to be matched by the states for library service expansion.

The board directed that annual requests be made to school jointures in the county to have sums for the library included in school budgets for the coming year in recognition of the bookmobile service rendered by the library.

The next library board meeting will be held April 10.

President William M. Lott presided at the meeting with seven directors and Mrs. Wilson in attendance.

The University of North Carolina's first golf team was organized in 1928. The team won three, lost three and tied one.

HOPE FOR SPLIT

IN SATELLITES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawmakers concluded gloomily today there is little hope for peace in Russia's post-Stalin leadership but Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) saw hope that some Soviet satellites might split away.

Specifically, Carlson said he thinks the U. S. should explore the possibility of a break between Red China and Russia, now that Stalin's influence has ended.

"Mao Tze-tung may have some ideas of his own about how China should be run and it is possible that he might become the Tito of Asia if he had some unofficial encouragement," Carlson said.

Few legislators saw much hope in the shift in Russian leaders which put Georgi Malenkov in Stalin's place as premier.

Although it was the general opinion in Congress that Malenkov had come out on top, many lawmakers believed there still will be a scramble for power in Russia.

RACING MARKS FALL

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP)—Records fell like tenpins at Monmouth Park last Aug. 9, closing day of the 1952 racing season here. Among marks that were established were the first race betting record ($198,423), the daily double pool which set a world's record high of $309,204, a one-race betting total of $475,327, and attendance mark of 40,793, and one-day wagering of $3,182,456. The amazing part of this record-breaking day was that the track was fetlock deep in mud.

Lynchings in the United States totaled 115 in 1900. In 1951 the total was one.

CANNERS CLOSE CAMPAIGN WITH TRIO OF WINS

Three Biglerville High School basketball teams won decisions as the Canners' season was officially ended with a triple-header program Friday night.

The Canner varsity was held to a 37-37 tie at the end of three periods by the Faculty but put on a strong last quarter to win 54-47.

The Biglerville jayvees were given a stiff argument by the Junior High quintet before they emerged victorious 21-20.

In the first game of the evening the Biglerville girls defeated the Independents, composed of former Biglerville players, 36-28.

BIRDIE GOT HIS HIT

CLEVELAND (AP)—When the Cleveland Indians were "drubbed by the Yankees, 7-1, last Sept. 14 it was the crushing blow of their pennant hopes. But Birdie Tebbets, veteran Tribe catcher, will remember that game for another reason. A single in that game was his 1,000th hit in the majors. Tebbets has played in the American League 13 years for Detroit, Boston and Cleveland. The hit, incidentally, was his last of the season.

Jim Gibbons, guard on the Notre Dame basketball team, set a field-house record recently when he connected on a set shot over 60 feet long.

Using Coach Fred Fitzsimmons' back as a desk, Alvin Dark, star infielder, ended his holdout and signed a two-year contract upon arrival at the New York Giants' training camp in Phoenix, Ariz., March 6, Supersizing the proceedings in the Giants' dugout is Horace Stoneham, club president.

OPEN EXHIBITION BASEBALL TILTS TODAY IN SOUTH

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's here! The 1953 spring training exhibition season gets under way today with all of the 16 major league clubs in action.

This year's exhibition games will be played on a high level or the pilots will have to answer to Commissioner Ford Frick. He reminded the managers yesterday of baseball's responsibility to the public.

"The commissioner urges you to make every possible effort to do a major league job in major league fashion," he emphasized in a statement. "Exhibition games should be played with the same zest and performance as regular season games."

Only two of the major league squads, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Browns, are scheduled to play against minor league opposition. The Pirates take on the Cuban All-Stars at Havana and the Browns meet the Los Angeles Angels at Los Angeles. The "Brownie" team travels to Santa Maria, Calif., to tangle with a Japanese all-star squad.

The World Champion New York Yankees start off with the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla., and the Brooklyn Dodgers, last year's National League pennant winners, clash with the Boston Braves at Miami.

Other games include: Cincinnati vs. the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota, Fla.; the Chicago Cubs vs. the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, Fla.; and Washington against the Philadelphia A's at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Except for Andy Parko, now with the Braves, the Dodgers will start their 1952 World Series lineup against the Boston Club. Don Thompson, up from Montreal, or Bill Antonello, recalled from Mobile, will open in Parko's old left field spot.

Veck looks Over Yanks
Some of the Yankees, meanwhile, were wondering whether they'll be on the New York roster much longer. St. Louis Browns' owner Bill Veck visited the Bombers' St. Petersburg quarters and announced he was seeking some outfield and pitching help. He talked for two hours with General Manager George Weiss of the Yanks.

"I want some ball players," Veck said. "Our talk didn't produce anything concrete but there is a chance of a deal going through."

Veck didn't mention any names but he's ready to take outfielder Irv Noren if the Yankees decide to peddle him. It's possible they will do so since Manager Casey Stengel is known to be high on Bill Skowron, a rookie. Skowron, still on the Kansas City roster, led the American Association in batting and runs batted in last year.

Kurth Will Speak At Delone Banquet

Joe Kurth, an All-America tackle at Notre Dame when Knute Rockne was coach, will be the speaker at Delone Catholic High School's annual athletic banquet.

The Rev. William R. Lyons, principal of Delone, announced that the banquet will be held in the cafeteria of the McSherrystown school building on Sunday, March 15, at 5 p.m.

Players and coaches will be in attendance at the dinner.

Bubblers Engage Millersburg Quint On College Floor

Boiling Springs and Millersburg will clash tonight at 8 o'clock on the Gettysburg College floor in a Class B, District 3, PIAA playoff game.

The Bubblers, unbeaten champions of the Adams County League, have compiled an overall season record of 22-2 and eliminated Greencastle in a playoff game Wednesday evening. Millersburg nosed out Susquehanna 46-45 to advance into a second round game with Boiling Springs.

Doors at the gymnasium will open at 7 o'clock.

BILLY GRAHAM JUBILANT OVER 100TH VICTORY

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now I guess they'll believe I won the other two fights," said jubilant Billy Graham today as he celebrated his 100th pro victory and his first triumph over Joey Giardello.

This one—scored over 12 rounds in Madison Square Garden last night—was by unanimous decision. It brought to a close a controversial three-bout series which provoked more disputes than most heavyweight title fights.

It was the first unanimous verdict in the series—Giardello won the other two by split decision—and it was the first time three officials had come up with the same winner for a Garden main event in five weeks.

There was hardly a dissent from the pro-Graham crowd of 8,638 which paid $30,649 (biggest Garden fight crowd and gate in a year) when the officials' cards were announced. The votes, all for Graham, were: Referee Ruby Goldstein 6-3-3; Judge Arthur Alda 8-3-1 and Judge Bert Grant, 7-4-1.

The AP scorecard had Graham ahead, 6-4-2. Nine of ten boxing writers polled at the ringside scored for Graham.

The distance proved the difference last night. Giardello had squeezed by the first two in ten rounds. In his first try at going more than ten, the 22-year old Philadelphia middleweight faded badly after the sixth while the veteran Graham grew stronger and won going away.

"That was the last one with Giardello," said Graham's manager, Irving Cohen. "We proved our point," said Cohen, adding with a big grin: "Hey, we reversed the Supreme Court's reversal, didn't we?"

This was a reference to the rubarb that followed the second scrap between the two last Dec. 19 in the Garden. Giardello, sixth ranking middleweight, won his second straight split verdict over the 30-year old welterweight contender but Commission Chairman Bob Christenberry changed Judge Joe Agnello's scorecard and gave the victory to Graham. Two months later State Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botein reversed Christenberry's reversal and handed the win back to Giardello.

The bout was broadcast and telecast nationally.

High Wrestler Wins Chance At Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John McHugh, Cheltenham High School's ace mat man using a variety of holds, last night defeated Lancaster's Dick Charles 6-4 in the Eastern Regional PIAA Wrestling Tournament at suburban Cheltenham High School.

By virtue of his victory in the 103-pound class, McHugh, winner of two previous Eastern titles, earned a shot at the state crown when the finals are held next Friday and Saturday at State College.

Abington High School came through with two winners. Bob Okamoto and Ronnie Vaughn. Okamoto took the 95 pound class with a 4-0 win over Cleo Cassel. Hershey, and Caughn pinned Bob Smith, Lancaster in a 138 pound match.

Other winners included Dean Gladfelter, York, 154 pounds, and Galin Kemple, Hershey, 185 pounds.

HOOSIERS DOMINATE TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—More than half of Florida State University's 13-member varsity basketball squad are products of the hardwood courts of Indiana. Seven of the Seminoles learned their fundamentals in the Hoosier state.

BULLETS WILL OPEN BASEBALL CARD APRIL 9

Gettysburg College baseball candidates will report to Coach "Hen" Bream next Tuesday afternoon to start workouts in preparation for a 14-game schedule.

For about a week or 10 days batters will be given most of the attention until weather conditions permit outdoor workouts.

The schedule is evenly balanced with seven games at home and the same number away. Another game, probably with F. and M., is expected to be added.

The schedule: April 9, Lebanon Valley, home; 11, Elizabethtown, away; 15, Johns Hopkins, away; 18, Muhlenberg, away; 21, Dickinson, home; 23, Penn State, away; 25, Temple, home; May 2, Western Maryland, home; 4, Mt. St. Mary's, home; 6, Lehigh, home; 9, Dickinson, away; 12, Lafayette, home; 14, Bucknell, away; 16, Franklin and Marshall, away.

End Indoor Track Season This Evening

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's indoor track season ends tonight with the Pioneer Club games which have drawn most of the top stars who have been competing in Madison Square Garden.

This one will be on a flat Armory floor, so no out-of-the-ordinary times are anticipated in distance race.

However, young Johnny Haines, the University of Pennsylvania freshman, who has developed into the outstanding prospect of the season, will duel with practically the same fast field in the 60-yard dash he beat in two Garden efforts, with the exception of Andy Stanfield.

The two FBI agents, Fred Witt and Horace Ashenfelter, ex-Penn Stater, go at it again in the mile.

TROJANS LACE CARLISLE FOR LEAGUE TITLE

"For the ninth time in the past 10 seasons, the Chambersburg High School basketball team rules as the boss of the South Penn League.

Before a crowd of about 1,600 fans, the Trojans, second half champions, outclassed Carlisle, first half titlists, 45-31 on the Mt. St. Mary's College floor at Emmitsburg.

The Trojans were in command all the way as they jumped into a 15-5 lead in the first period and at half time enjoyed a 29-12 margin.

Jake Corwell, Chambersburg center, played the outstanding game for the winners. He got his team off to a 4-0 lead on two goals and eventually took the scoring honors with 14 tallies. His work beneath the boards was particularly effective.

Gene Evans' Carlisle team staged a determined rally in the third period when Joe Mihalik accounted for four goals but Chambersburg recovered in the final period to win going away.

Chambersburg now enters the Class A District 3, PIAA playoffs and meets Ephrata of Lancaster County next Tuesday evening on the Camp Curtin floor, Harrisburg.

Mt. St. Mary's Eliminated By Loyola 67-54 In Mason-Dixon Conference Cage Tournament

Mt. St. Mary's was knocked out of contention for the Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tournament title when it bowed to Loyola of Baltimore 67-54 in a semi-final game Friday evening on the Loyola floor.

American U. downed Roanoke 62-57 in the other semi-final affair to gain the championship contest with Loyola tonight.

It was announced that Loyola has accepted a bid to participate in the National Intercollegiate basketball tournament.

The Mounts put up a furious battle against the Greyhounds but wilted in the second half. It marked the third time this season Bill Clarke's lad's lost to the Greyhounds, two previous reverses coming during the regular season.

It was nip and tuck in the first period which found Loyola eventually taking the lead at 15-14. Paced by George Donohue and Charley O'Donnell, the Mount surged into a 29-21 lead in the second period but a pair of Loyola goals cut the margin to 29-25 at half time.

Loyola Moves Ahead
Loyola caught up at 40-40 late in the third period and Pistorio's goal gave the Greyhounds a 42-40 edge entering the final stanza.

The Baltimoreans led throughout the last period although midway in the quarter the Mount rallied to come within four points at 56-52.

O'Donnell and Co-Captain Ted Kachnowski landed 15 and 12 points, respectively, for Mt. St. Mary's. Joe Hittleman, star Loyola forward, racked up 23 tallies for the winners.

The defeat left the Emmitsburg outfit with a 20-7 season record. In regular Mason-Dixon play the Mount finished third with a 16-3 mark.

Riding with Russell

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.E.

The cynic says that another way to check accidents would be to make it illegal to drive slowly.

Steering Through Stoops
Not too many drivers recognize it but much of their steering while at the wheel is conducted during brake application and may thus differ widely from steering while the car is rolling along at an even gait or while being accelerated. If steering is erratic when the brakes are applied check for improperly adjusted shoes or out-of-round drums. Trouble with the springs will also affect steering during slow-downs or stopping. Among other things to consider are a bent drag line, too little caster, a bent tie rod, defective spring shackles, weakness of the springs. Easily overlooked is unequal caster.

Whether smooth tire wear along the edges of the tread is due to simple underinflation or to some less easily recognized cause is merely a matter of noting whether the wear is on both edges or just one. Underinflation permits the center of the tire tread to "loaf" and thus wear the edges. However, if only the outer edge of the tire wears, the trouble may be due to seven possible causes. So check for a bent steering arm, weak springs (front or rear), too much camber, excessive toe in, excessive toe out, too much camber or a shifted rear axle.

Prepare For Anything
One of the facts tourists face at this time of year is inability to know in advance just what sort of driving conditions they are likely to encounter. I was reminded of this by a tourist who wanted to know just where it would be necessary to add anti-freeze and use chains. The proper caper is to be fully prepared at all times. Anti-freeze of the ethylene glycol type will raise the boiling point and thus is practically a must for those who are hitting the mountains. Take along the chains for you never know when they will be needed. In some cases it will be necessary to go to lighter oil or heavier oil.

Motorists who are planning to make alterations in their cars, install new motors, replace the body or otherwise customize their present property could make good use of the data on frame diagrams which are contained in the annual handbooks published by Motor which issues the popular motor trade magazine by the same name. These diagrams show all the dimensions, including the base line, the wheelbase and side elevations.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"When a customer caught me adjusting the tappets of the engine of his car he complained that since he had asked me merely to take a compression reading I was just running up the repair bill. Somehow he did not realize the connection between tappets and compression.

"Since he had complained of lack of power on hills, and in view of the fact that compression readings with a cold motor were normal, I suspected that because of too little tappet clearances valves might not close tightly when the engine warmed up. I decided to give the tappets a little more clearance and then test the car on a long hill."

Logic Often Dangerous
Even though logic seems to be on your side it usually pays to use the basic rules for caution. I had a perfect illustration of this the other day when about to pull out of a side street leading to the service station for one of the popular makes. The only car on the intersecting street was a brand new one of the make handled by the shop I had just left, so it was entirely logical to assume that the woman at the wheel was planning to turn into the side street. Experience told me to beware, however, I decided not to proceed and make a left turn, but to await developments. It proved to be the right decision. The lady went whizzing by with no interest whatsoever in turning.

Another Helpful Book
"How to Drive—And Stay Alive" is the intriguing title of a new book in the Harlan Publications series of discussions on various subjects. Just about everything a motorist would want to know about safe and economical driving procedures, car maintenance, regulations, car insurance, accident prevention and roadside repairing are packed into the book's 212 pages of text. In authorizing this $2.00 compilation on motor information author Frank Williams starts with the premise that with more than 30,000 Americans being killed annually, and over a million and a half injured, it is high time that something be done about it. Williams certainly leaves no stone unturned in telling how every day highway hazards can be surmounted. I hope it is widely and carefully read. But whether it will arouse the interest of the people who need its message most is the question. I'm thinking of the man who falls asleep watching a television show on which the sponsors are spending a thousand dollars a minute to entertain him.

Rough On Any Car
When a motorist recently asked me what I think are the six best ways to beat up a car I did not have to go into a trance for the answer. In my opinion they are as follows:

Starting into traffic with a cold motor. Too many short runs. Speed over rough roads. Sudden acceleration. Sudden stopping. And insufficient attention to lubrication. I suppose it is because of the mystery that usually surrounds the word "automatic" but usually if the choke is suspected when an engine doesn't start the modern motorist is inclined to feel that he would be somewhat lost were he to try some checking himself. At least anyone can tell whether or not the choke valve is closed. All he need do is remove the air cleaner and, with a flashlight, look into the carburetor air intake. The choke valve is the first thing seen.

Been In An Accident?
Few shoppers ever think to do it, but a useful idea when shopping for a used car is to open and close each of the doors. If one or two of them show a tendency to jam there may be suspicion that the car has been in an accident. Look around the luggage compartment to see if the hinges have been welded. Run the palm of your hand over the top to make sure the surface is normally smooth, for there may be signs that the car has rolled over and the top reworked.

If your reaction to this is that you'd prefer to go to a dealer you can trust and who will stand back of his wares you are thinking right up my alley. The man behind the car counts most.

Having Their Troubles
Q. I have been told that there is an adjustable arm on the accelerator pump of the carburetor of my car and that in winter the pump's stroke should be maximum for best pick-up. J. J. M.
A. Your car's carburetor does not have this feature. Lack of acceleration ability in your case may be due to general sluggishness, most likely from late ignition timing.

Q. How tight should the fan belt be? Wm. L. G.

A. There are various opinions on this. It should be possible to move the fan by pressing with not too much effort on one of its blades. The belt need be no tighter than is necessary to prevent slippage.

Q. Is there any way to predict when radiator hoses are in danger of collapsing? I have heard stories of overheating on the open road where the lower hose sucks inward and acts like a thermostat to shut off flow of water. Want to avoid anything like this. K. F.

A. If hoses are deteriorating it will feel squishy.

Q. What would cause erratic brake action? This has been going on for quite awhile. There is no leakage. The brake lining appears to be thick enough. There is no oil or brake fluid on the lining. Brake shoes have been re-adjusted several times. T. McB.

A. There's a good chance that due to use of low quality brake fluid corrosion has developed, causing the pistons to stick in their cylinders.

Q. The ammeter on my car shows a little discharge when all the electrical devices are switched off. Also the battery seems to be weaker than usual. What could be draining current? B. McN. Jr.

A. To make sure about this better disconnect the battery by removing the cable that runs to the starter-motor. If the pointer still shows discharge it is merely sprung. Chances are that the battery condition is due to insufficient charging.

Q. In spite of replacing the spark plugs and checking the wiring there is a skip in the motor. There's no back firing so I have ruled out sticking valves. Would appreciate any suggestions. L. K. D.

A. How about a sticky exhaust valve? This will merely give you a skip when the car is running slowly in high (not so noticeable in second gear with an eight cylinder motor like yours). Sticking exhaust valves do not provide the backfiring you have been looking for as a clue.

Q. New rings were installed in the motor of my car but I still have very poor oil mileage. I understand that the situation should be better when a little carbon collects on the pistons, but the situation is rather bad. Smoke pours out of the tail pipe when the car is going down hill with a closed throttle. Wm. L. F.

A. Maybe this engine needed a rebore. However, I would first have a vacuum test to see if there is excessive leakage around worn valve guides.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford, 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

"Long Pull" Ahead Churchill Asserts

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons on Thursday approved government plans to spend more than 4½ billion dollars on defense in the coming financial year after Prime Minister Churchill warned the heavy load was essential in "this testing time of the free world."

The vote was 295-254. It came on a government white paper outlining defense policy that accompanied the defense budget for the new fiscal year. The budget itself will be voted on later.

Churchill admitted that the planned arms load of 1,636,760,000 pounds ($4,582,828,000) would strain Britain's economy to the limit.

But he told the lawmakers that "what we are faced with is not a violent jerk but a long pull."

SAYS PUBLIC "MISLED" ON PA. TURNPIKE

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Frank A. Orban of Somerset County said Friday the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission "has misled the public into believing its highway is the safest in the world."

Orban, testifying before a 10-man legislative committee probing safety conditions on the famed 327-mile highway, said "the turnpike is far from being the safest." He program to inform the public of the toll road's dangers be launched.

Orban cited the 83 traffic deaths which occurred in 1952 as proof the highway is not the safest. He outlined this five point program to make the turnpike a safer place to travel:

1. Physical improvement of the highway and the vehicles on it.
2. A 50-mile an hour speed limit in Somerset and Westmoreland Counties.
3. Education which would include publication of all accidents and all arrests made on the turnpike each month.

Want Center Rails
4. Enforcement which would include 24 hour, rigid policing to end "for all time" the popular belief that a driver won't be arrested on the turnpike.

5. Legislation, including a law compelling out-of-state drivers involved in accidents to appear at criminal hearings even after they have left the state. Orban also called for those arrested to be taken to the nearest justice of the peace.

Orban advocated construction of center rails in the grassy strip between the turnpike's two lanes. Joseph Intorre, of the Institute of Public Safety at the Pennsylvania State College told the committee that the dividing strip between the traffic lanes is inadequate.

ASK PIKE BIDS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Friday called for bids on April 2 for construction of 6.11 miles of the toll road's extension to the Delaware River.

The section covered in the bidding are located in Plymouth and Whitmarsh Townships, Montgomery County.

Africa is largely plateau, but it has little land that is very high or very low and hence its average elevation is lower than that of Asia.

Named Rector Of Pottsville Church

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Designation of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John E. Boyle, since 1939 director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, as irremovable rector of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Pottsville, was disclosed Friday.

Msgr. Boyle succeeds the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. V. McCaffrey at the Pottsville church. The Most Rev. John F. O'Hara also announced the appointment of the Rev. Martin J. McDonough as the new diocesan director of the Society of the Propagation of the Faith. Father McDonough has been assistant director since 1948.

SOUTH KOREANS STOP 5 DRIVES

SEOUL (AP)—Determined South Korean soldiers Friday beat off five bloody Communist counterattacks and held grimly to a newly won, shell-scarred knob on Sniper Ridge on the Korean Central Front.

Chinese Red assaults, supported by stinging artillery and mortar fire, forced the South Koreans off the outpost briefly, but they later stormed back in a bitter hand-to-hand battle.

Allied soldiers made no effort to hide the fact that the death of Russian Premier Joseph Stalin—like the death of any Communist—was good news to them. But few thought it would have any effect on life in the bunkers of the bleak battlefield.

In the air, eight U. S. B29 Superforts rode out scattered Red anti-aircraft fire and dumped 80 tons of bombs on Communist troop and supply centers along the battlefield. Crewmen reported good results.

FILLED JOBS ON "MERIT"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two high officials testified Friday that political patronage—not merit—had been "crucial" in filling top jobs in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Testifying before House investigators of Revenue Bureau scandals, the two officials rattled off the names of a dozen or more senators and representatives they said intervened to help them win important jobs in the bureau.
